

Alorica Knowledge IQ

Powering the best CX with Knowledge as a Service excellence

To meet today's customer expectations—highly personalized support, fast response times, consistent service across multiple touchpoints—it takes a blend of cutting-edge technology and a human touch. And that means investing in key technologies to streamline CX, including agent assist solutions, GenAI integration, advanced analytics, and knowledge management platforms.

Knowledge bases—content repositories, including articles, FAQs, and more, that can be used by agents while on calls or by customers independently¹—can help provide more contextualized responses, but searching for answers often requires hunting for the right articles on the customer's time², exacerbating dead air and compromising CX.

Everest Group recently reported that over 52% of enterprises have made at least initial investments in knowledge management platforms, with over 30% looking to tech providers, IT/BPO firms to implement GenAI strategies to drive CX transformation. The same study revealed that over 50% of enterprises want to partner with partners with deep industry expertise, flexible technology options, model fine-tuning support and ongoing maintenance³.

And for over 25 years, for many of the world's biggest brands, that partner is Alorica.
